HISTORY AND PURPOSE

The Texas Association of Convention & Visitor Bureaus (TACVB) was organized in July 1972 and incorporated in July 1983 for the purpose of:

- Providing cooperative action between the convention and visitor bureaus of Texas cities
- Maintaining professional standards within the industry
- Unifying legislative and public relations efforts among the cities
- Holding meetings and conferences for the mutual education and improvement of members
- Collecting and disseminating information helpful to TACVB members

Continuing Education

A primary mission of TACVB is to provide quality educational opportunities for its members. The association holds seminars and workshops during our annual conference in August and the mid-winter education conference in January. Educational seminars, geared for executive officers and staff members from bureaus of all sizes are designed to improve bureau operations.

Idea Exchange/Networking

A first-timers program at the annual conference matches new members or new conference with other TACVB members who help them make the most of the conference and are available throughout the year to answer questions by telephone. The membership values the opportunities TACVB provides to exchange ideas and network with peers. Quarterly e-newsletters are sent to members. TACVB has established a CEO list serv and a Professional Staff list serv for the members.

Research

TACVB conducts a membership survey bi-annually. All participating members receive complimentary copies of the survey results which cover bureau funding, compensation, economic impact and activities regarding bureau activities.

Convention Sales Leads

In 1987, TACVB established Texas Meetings & Events Tracking (TxMET), the first state association database for the exchange of convention information between participating members. A computerized information network, TxMET includes records on the past and future meetings and events of organizations that meet in Texas.

In Connection with the Academy Awards (the Oscars), TACVB hosts an Oscar Party in Austin for meeting planners, this serves as a "kick-off" to our Co-City Marketing Blitz. The Co-City Marketing Blitz is an event for CVB sales professionals, to join together in teams to call on organizations in Austin.

Resources

TACVB maintains a resource lending library for members which includes video tapes, books, audio tapes, course outlines and research papers to aid bureaus operations and staff development. Any suggestions for additions to the library are welcome and new items are continuously added
